

Ad Esse have a mentoring offer for professionals engaged in the delivery of transformation, change and improvement. Specifically, leaders and internal change practitioners.

This offer is aimed at organisations where:

- You have leaders that want an independent sounding board from someone who has been delivering successful change and transformation in your sector
- You have a specific development need you want to address
- You have change professionals and leaders that need someone to challenge them and push them to achieve more
- You have people who need someone to guide them through the process of successful change
- Ad Esse may have worked with you before, and your change practitioners and/or leaders want on-going formal support

Your Ad Esse mentor will be one of the two company Directors, both of whom have over fifteen years of experience delivering successful change and transformation.

Our approach

The sessions commence with goal setting where we will clarify the objectives you wish to achieve through the mentoring sessions, and the logistics for the meetings such as the frequency of the sessions.

Our rates

Our mentoring service is billed in five-hour bundles, and the hours can be taken at the frequency and intensity to meet the individual's needs. The cost of a five-hour bundle is £1,000 plus VAT. The mentoring is usually delivered virtually but can be delivered in person on request. This will however incur additional expenses.
